Government support for major events

Operational and logistical support by Government agencies is critical for the successful delivery of a major international event.

The corporate knowledge and event expertise of NSW Government agencies gained from events such as the Sydney 2000 Olympic Games and Rugby World Cup 2003 is internationally regarded as a benchmark in major event management.

Whole of government coordination and communications arrangements between Government agencies aim to ensure the successful delivery of major events and enhance the safety and enjoyment of events for residents and visitors alike.
